QUESTION 2: WELSH LANGUAGE

We would like to know your views on the effects that proposals in the Deposit Plan would have on the Welsh language, specifically on opportunities for people to use Welsh and on treating the Welsh language no less favourably than English. Do you think that there will be any impacts, either positive or negative? Please explain

Object:

My first concern is that currently there is insufficient infrastructure to support the level of development proposed. The surrounding area is already too congested, and existing roads regularly struggle to cope with the amount of traffic. Building a large number of additional homes will inevitably increase vehicle traffic and place further strain on roads that are already operating beyond reasonable capacity.

In addition, local public services are already under considerable pressure. Schools in the area are at capacity and local GP surgeries are struggling to accommodate the current population.

The surrounding area has not really changed in the last 30 years

Dinas Powys bypass was first proposed around 1977 and the route safeguarded. It was on the council's development plan in 1996-2011. We are still waiting. While we are continuing to have new developments forced on us in the Vale of Glamorgan. Average family homes have changed, possibly having 3 or more cars per household. The roads are in a terrible state full of potholes because of the traffic and heavier vehicles etc.

Without substantial investment in supporting infrastructure the proposed development would have a detrimental impact on the quality of life, existing residents and the wider community.
